RUPTURE WITH BRAZIL.

THE English Admiral, by order of our Minister at Rio Janeiro, Mr Christie, seized some Brazilian vessels, the Imperial Government having refused compensation for the plunder of the barque "Prince of Wales," by public officials, and the arrest of three naval officers.

Dom Pedro yielded to the ultima ratio regum, and consented to pay £7000 for the first offence, and submit the second to English arbitration.

Details to-morrow.

LATEST FROM EUROPE

MR. WHEELRIGHT COME.

WOOL AND HIDES DOWN.

The Mersey arrived yesterday morning, bringing dates from London to the 9th December, and the States to the 28th November. Strange to say, the Brazilian news had more interest for us, than European; for by this packet we first learned of the Brazilian difficulty with England. Admiral Warren behaved like a true British seaman—took half a dozen Brazilian men of-war before the Portuguese sailors knew where they were, and would, in all probability have them in Southampton or Liverpool by this time, had not the Brazilian Government struck under, and acceded to the just demands of Mr Christie. For full particulars we refer our readers to another column.

ENGLAND.

The Prince of Wales has returned, and will be married in March, at St George's Chapel, Windsor. The Queen was in best of health.

James Sheridan Knowles died on the 30th November.

The Southampton election terminated, the Mayor being returned.

A frightful colliery accident occurred at Barnsley; over 40 men perished.

The Greek residents at Liverpool held a meeting in favour of Prince Alfred's election to the throne of Greece: it is, however, believed he will refuse the dignity, although the city of Athens has unanimously elected him. The King of Portugal has also declined the Greek crown, and Russia has withdrawn her candidate, the Duke of Leuchtenberg; the Duke of Dalecarlia, brother of the King of Denmark, is proposed.

The great Lancashire meeting, for the relief of the cotton operatives, produced £137,000 sterling.

M. de Chaillu has challenged his opponents, in £1000, offering to shoot 6 gorillas in 2 years, bringing their skeletons to England.

ARRIVAL OF THE PRINCE OF WALES.

His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales arrived at Dover yesterday afternoon in the Government yacht Vivid, Commander Allen, which left Calais shortly after 1 o'clock and reached the Admiralty Pier at Dover soon after 3. A guard of honour of the Royal Artillery was drawn up along the Admiralty Pier, which was lined with townsfolk and visitors who had flocked to the place of disembarcation as soon as it became known that his Royal Highness was expected to land at Dover. This was not made public till a few hours before the Prince's actual arrival, in order to avoid the formalities of a public reception, it being well understood that his Royal Highness desired to land in as private manner as possible.

On the Prince ascending the landing stairs a Royal salute was fired from the Castle batteries, [the band of the Royal Artillery struck up the National Anthem, and a succession of cheers attended his passage from the landing place to Birmingham's Lord Warden Hotel, where his Royal Highness remained a short time and partook of refreshment before proceeding for London.

FRANCE.

Paris, Dec. 8

The Moniteur of to-day says:

"The Emperor, hearing of the illness of M. Horace Vernet, has sent to that eminent artist an autograph letter and the decorations of a Grand Officer of the Legion of Honour."

Horace Vernet has received the last sacrament.

The Opinion Nationale has received a second warning for the publication of an article entitled "Martyrdom of the Clerical Party." The motives of the warning are stated to be, that the Opinion Nationale, "notwithstanding that it has received several semi-official warnings, has continued to falsely attribute all the acts of the Government to what it terms "clerical influences," and to misrepresent the liberal intentions of the Government of the Emperor."

By the treaty concluded to-day between the President of the Swiss Confederation and the French Ambassador the Valley of the Dappes has been ceded to France, in consideration of the cession of an equal extent of territory to Switzerland.

December 7.

The inauguration of the Boulevard Prince Eugène has been celebrated with great magnificence.

The Emperor and Empress were well received by the people. Immense crowds were present.

Prince Napoleon accompanied the Emperor on horseback.

Nothing of an unusual character took place during the ceremony.

The weather was foggy, but without rain.

"La France" of this evening publishes the following particulars of the inarguration of the Boulevard Prince Eugène:—

"M. Dumas having addressed the Emperor in the name of the Municipal Commission. His Imperial Majesty replied in terms which we would not presume to summarize. It is sufficient to state that the speech of the Emperor was enthusiastically received. Two portions, however, of the address especially attracted the attention of the audience.

"The Emperor touched upon the question of the baking trade of Paris, as regards its bearing upon the interests of the population, and then continued:—"It was at first intended to bestow upon the transverse Boulevard the name of Queen Hortense, but I have no desire to monopolize for my family the tribute of popular homage which ought to be reserved for our national glories.

"The Emperor stated that he should give a new Boulevard the name of Richard Lenoir, who from a simple workman became one of the most eminent manufacturers in Europe, and who, after having given his workmen food in times of distress, transformed them into soldiers and marched at their head at a period when the country was in danger.

"His Imperial Majesty, in conclusion, dwelt upon the institution by Lenoir of "loans to labour," and said that his proceedings falsified the proverb that it is only the rich who are able to borrow [on ne prête qu'aux riches]."

Numerous cries of "Long live the Emperor and Empress!" followed the speech of His Majesty.

FRANCE AND SWITZERLAND.

Berne, Dec, 8.

This afternoon a treaty was signed between France and Switzerland settling the question of the Valley of the Dappes by a mutual cession of territory.

ITALY.

Turin, Dec. 7, Evening.

The "Italia" of this evening publishes the following list as composing the new Ministry:—

President of the Council (without portfolio)—Signor Farini.

Minister of the Interior—Signor Peruzzi.

Minister of Justice—Signor Cassinis

Minister of Public Works—Signor Menabrea.

Minister of Marine—Signor Longo.

Minister of Commerce—Signor Audinst (?).

Signor Petitti declined to accept the post assigned to him. The reply of Signor Della Rovere is still awaited. It is asserted that Signor Pasolini refused the office of Minister of Foreign Affairs.

The "Official Gazette" of to-morrow is expected to contain definitive particulars.

GREECE.

Athens, Dec 3

The Provisional Government has ordered that the election of the future King should take place by universal suffrage.

The reason for this order is stated to be that the English Minister had declared Prince Alfred would not accept his election.

The choice of Prince Alfred by universal suffrage appears certain.

Dec 4.

Demonstrations in favor of Prince Alfred continue to take place.

Voting for the election of the King commenced to-day, and will continue throughout the country for ten days.

Dec. 4.

The process of taking the popular votes has commenced.

Up to the present time 2,509 signatures have been received, all without exception in favor of Prince Alfred.

The Prince's election is considered certain.

Both the plebiscite for the election of Prince Alfred and the elections for the Assembly have begun.

The Synod signed first and 2,000 followed, all for Prince Alfred.

Dec. 6.

A decree has been published for the issue of 100 drachma bonds to the amount of six millions.

The bonds are to be issued at par, bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent. The premium is to be 1 per cent. and 1 per cent. is to be reserved as a sinking fund.

INDIA.

The Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company have received the following telegram.—

Bombay, Nov, 27.

The Colombo was totally lost on Minicoy Islands (445 miles this side of Galle), on the morning of the 19th inst. The passengers, the crew, and a portion of the mails were saved. If the weather is moderate we hope to save a part of the cargo. The news was received at Bombay on the evening of the 25th. The Ottawa, with two divers, left for the wreck this morning to take the mails and passengers to Suez.

AMERICAN WAR.

New York. Nov. 25, Evening.

The Federal Government has issued an order for the release of all prisoners held in military charge for discouraging the enlistment and opposing the draught.

All persons arrested in the Confederal States for hostility to the Federate Government will be discharged on parole, or allowed to leave the country; this does not, however, refer to persons who have been in arms against the Government.

The Federal expedition for opening the Mississippi will consist of about 40,000 men and 40 gunboats.

The Confederates have erected very extensive fortifications at Port Audson, the Mississippi, 150 miles from New Orleans, commanding the entrance to the river.

Federal reconnaissances have been made from Fortress Monroe, up the peninsula, as far as the Chickahominy River.

President Jefferson Davis has ordered the Confederate General commanding the Mississippi Department to demand the surrender of Federal General M'Neil for murdering ten Confederate citizens of Missouri. If this is refused, and the charges are proved to be true, the Confederate General is instructed to execute the first 10 Federal officers that are captured.

President Lincoln has ordered the Attorney General to take measures for carrying out the Confiscation Act

Mr. G. Brown, the newly-elected Abolition Member to Congress from Missoury, has issued a proposal urging the Northern States to agitate the question of a gradual emancipation of the slaves in Messouri.

The British steamer Kelsie is reported to have been sunk by a collision, 50 miles from Nassau.

The future financial policy of the Government continues to be discussed. It is supposed that more legal tender currency will be issued.

The Federals have extended the time for the inhabitants of Fredericksburg to remove their women and children until the morning of the 23d. No news has been yet received of any bombardment, all being reported quiet

The Confederate General Lee is at Fredericksburg, and it is supposed will resist the passage of the Rappahannock by the Federals.

The Confederates remain in the immediate front of the Federals at Harper's Ferry.

The reports of "Stonewall" Jackson's movements are still conflicting

All sorts of rumours are current concerning the destination of the large Federal expedition preparing under General Bank. One report states that the expedition will proceed to the peninsula, and will co-operate with the gunboats in the attack on Richmond by way of James River.

Earl Russell's refusal to co-operate with France in mediation is variously interpreted, many regarding the question of mediation as only postponed.

The "New York Times" thinks that the official announcement of proposed mediation will give a definiteness to American policy which will leave European Governments no room to doubt what will be the result when they shape and indicate their own course.

General M'Clellan has refused a public reception in New York.

The Africa passed cape Race yesterday.

It is reported from Peru that the loan effected in England would cause some uneasiness, the President requiring the money, and Congress refusing to touch it.

Money easier. Gold 29 1|8 per cent. prem.

Exchange declining. Bankers' bills on London, 143½.

Stocks steady—New York Central, 102 5|8; Illinois Centrals, 79 1|2; Erie, 62.

(VIA CAPE RACE,)

New York. Nov. 26, Evening.

Rumours are current that General Burnside's threatened attack on Fredericksburg is merely a feint to cover the transportation of his army from Acquia Creek to the peninsula.

It is impossible to ascertain if the rumours are well founded.

The general impression is that an advance on Richmond by way of Fredericksburg is impracticable.

A force of 60 Confederate cavalry has made a dash into Poolesville, Maryland, captured the telegraph operators, whom they permitted to telegraph their capture to Washington.

The Federal Congress assembles on Monday next, Dec. 1.

To-morrow, being Thanksgiving-day, no business will be transacted in New York.

Nov. 27 Morning

The Confederates are strengthening their position at Fredericksburg, the condition of the roads rendering any movement of the Federal army impracticable.

The New York press generally criticizes the official correspondence on the subject of the proposed mediation in an unfavourable tone towards England and France, to both of whom interested motives are attributed. The police of Russia is favourably criticized.

The "New York Times" thinks that the threat of Jefferson Davis to execute the first 10 Federal officers captured in Missouri will be carried out, and will form the most frightful incident of the present war, demanding instant serious considerations of the people.

To-day, being Thanksgiving-day, contributions are received in church for the Lancashire operatives.

The City of Washington has arrived out.

Nov. 28, Evening.

The bombardment of Fredericksburg is postponed.

President Lincoln left Washington on the 27th, and had an important interview with General Burnside at Belle Plain.

New Orleans correspondents of Northern journals assert that the specie which the Federal Government ordered General Butler to restore to the French Consul was afterwards sent to an agent at Havannah of the Confederates, for the purchase of food and clothing.

Numbers of political prisoners have been unconditionally released from Fort Warren. Pierre Soulé has been discharged from Fort Lafayette.

Official correspondence between the Mexican Government and the foreign Ministers shows that the Ministers have unanimously urged the Government to rescind the resolution expelling M. Jecker and other foreigners. The Prussian Minister has threatened to hold the Government responsible for the losses caused to Frenchmen by their expulsion, but the Government has firmly adhered to its determination.

EDITOR's TABLE.

THE missing box of the cotton gins has at last turned up. After three weeks' searching through and through the Custom-house, it was discovered to be on board the vessel. Too much praise cannot be given to Mr A. Ferrer, whom we recommend strongly to all foreign houses, as an energetic, determined custom-house broker.

The news from Europe seems not the most favourable for wool. On the continent this article has suffered a serious decline, while in England the wool market is not only firm, but with an upward tendency.

Dr Alsina has refused the chair of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. The on dit about town is that, with all our lawyers and scribanes, we have not one who understands the attributes and jurisdiction of this court, and that there are only three copies of "Kent" in town. Don Nicolas Calvo has compiled an able work on the Federal Courts and their jurisdiction. We would advise our ad captandum lawyers to study it. One of our colleagues professes surprise at Dr Alsina's rejection of so high a post. We, however, can easily assign a reason.

In the packet review of one of our colleagues, we perceive that the unsophisticated Europeans are informed that San Nicolas is to have two justices of the peace. The brother of our "absent friend" probably flatters himself that people in Europe will be highly delighted with this piece of intelligence. It is bad enough to put this trash in Spanish, but to go to the expense and trouble of translating such reviews into French is a compliment which even Napoleon must appreciate.

Mr Wheelright has at last arrived. We salute him cordially on behalf of the country we live in, and welcome him to the Argentine republic.

The report of the British Hospital committee we have received, but are obliged to hold over until to morrow for want of room, also an interesting communication from Chascomus.

We have received a most interesting communication from Mr Scully, of Rio Janeiro, respecting the late difficulty; and a favor from Mr S. R. Phibbs, which we shall publish to-morrow. On the part of the sheep-farmers, we return our best thanks to Mr. Phibbs, for the kind interest he has taken in a matter which is of the greatest importance to them.

The friends of the STANDARD will be pleased to learn that our new type has arrived in the ship Zoe, and will be brought ashore in a day or two. Our steam-press, which an English merchant kindly volunteered to get us from New York, we expect to receive in April. Every steamer brings us new subscribers; it is a good sign for this country that people are beginning to take an interest in its concerns. Mr Geo. Groome, President New York Exchange; Mr George V. Magennis, Liverpool; and Messrs Page and Welch, London, have requested to enter their names on our list of subscribers.

The "Cork Examiner" reports the foundering at sea of the barque Eliza, Captain Smith, which left Liverpool on Sunday last for Montevideo, with machinery and coal. The captain, mate, and 22 seamen were lost. Only two men saved in the life boat, having been picked up by the schooner Aspin also from Liverpool to Montevideo. The Aspin had to put into Queenstown in distress.

Private Circular for the River Plate Mail

Liverpool, Dec. 6th, 1862.

Since our last of the 7th ult. 537 bls. B. Aires and Santiago wools have ar ived here.

The same dullness, reported in our last, still continues, the business tra nsacted has been on the most limited scale and at prices rather in favor of buyers; still on the whole imports, showing confidence in the maintenance of present rates, are very firm. The few lots, brought forward at the Public Sales now in progress in London have not met with much competition and have been partly withdrawn.

At the Havre Public Sales on the 20th and 21st ult. of 6834 Bs. offered only 1406 Bales found buyers at a reduction of from 7 1|2 to 10 0|0 chiefly on inferior conditioned wools.

In Cordova there is nothing to report.

Sheepskins—the prices realized for medium wools at the London sales not being equal to the anticipations of the trade, sheepskins are scarcely so good to sell, but stocks of them are very light in this Market.

Wool.—washed and unwashed; our stock has increased during the present month, the only vessel which has arrived having brought 662 bales The public sale of the 2cth and 21st inst has not produced the results which were expected: On 3124 bales from Buenos Ayres and Montevideo which were offered 1236 only were sold, a few private sales also were made for 96 bales, our stock is very large comprising 2300 bales in first hands and 158, in second do do sales.

These figures show a general decline of 5 to 7 per cent on the finest and lowest wools, the second and third descriptions are not so low, but we are obliged to state that after the auctions the demand has been insignificant and the few offers made show a fall in this article.

LONDON WOOL SALES.—The sales have gone off steadily to-day, at fully yesterday's quotations, or from 1d to 2d per lb above the average of la t auctions.—Dec. 5 1862.

HIDES. The market for salted hides during the month has been very animated, but we cannot quote any advance in price on last month's quotations. The stocks both here and in London have been materially reduced and the recent large sales wil tend to keep up the tone of the market until arrival of the ensuing season's hides; the price obtainable for which will depend upon the still further exhaustion of stock, and the time of the new arrivals. The market continues firm and we have to advise the following sales since our last issue, viz, 37,500 hides, which brought the following prices:—Buenos Ayres heavy ox average 59 to 62 lbs, at 6 5|8d to 6 3|4d, tare 5 lbs; ditto, moist, average 63 1|4 lbs at 6 1|2d. tare 5lbs; light ox average 42 7|8lbs. at 4 1|2d, tare 4lbs, Uruguay heavy ox, average 50 1|2 to 60lbs, at 6 1|4 to 6 3|8d, tare 5lbs; ditto, average 65 1|2 lbs. at 6 1|4d. tare 7lbs; light ox. average 48 1|4 to 52lbs. at 6 1|4d to 6 3|8d, tare 4 lbs; ditto, average 39 1|2 lbs, at 4 3|8d, tare 3lbs. DREADFUL MURDER IN WESTMEATH—A murder of a most appalling character was perpetrated on the lands of Bayanne, near Moate, on the night of Monday last. A man named Michael Bannon, recently married, who resided on the above lands, had proceeded on Monday to Athlone, and the following morning his lifeless remains were discovered about eleven o'clock, a. m., on the following day, in the ditch of his own field. The wife of Bannon and her mother have been arrested. Bannon was considerably beyon meridian of life, and his bride was very young. The left side of Barron's head was completely battered away, and his brains scattered about. Two large st nes covered with blood and brains were found quite near. Deceased was a quite, inoffensive man, highly respective by his neighbours, to whom he was very obliging.
